The application has been amended as follows:

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art does not teach an electromagnetic device in operated in an oil containing sulfur in an automotive transmission with a wire embedded on a bobbin disposed inside an outer casing so as to be disposed around and on a common axis with a moveable shaft supported by the casing, where an electrically-insulating layer is coated on the conducting wire with means for preventing sulfur compounds present in the oil from permeating the electrically-insulating layer and attendantly reducing the formation of sulfur compounds on a surface of said conducting wire, thereby suppressing the reduction in adhesive of the electrically- insulating layer to said conducting wire, wire breakage, and short circuiting between said conducting wires, said preventing means comprising said electrically-insulating layer being of a material resistant to permeation by the sulfur compounds.
